Key Highlights

KRJP Topline : KRJP to start '26 Jan on a good note with combined ADO RR 106%/ADG RR 108%(MoM 6%/4% respectively) growth faster than PLT

1. KR EOM 68k(MoM +6%, RR 105%), with overall growth primarily driven by strong VN performance from UST sellers (e.g. Dalba, Tirtir) on pre-LNY demand pull-forward, while SG/MY/TH showed limited performance due to less aggressive promotional execution versus M-1 (e.g., KOL collaborations, GWP), alongside TH D&T price increase
2. JP EOM 15.3k(MoM +7%, RR 111%) showing good growth in PH from UST shops making up the TH regression(MoM -35%) from 30% + D&T price increase

3 KRJP MP PC2 + SLS PnL: KRJP PnL $1.5mil with RR 105%(MoM -39%)

- KR PC2 target RR 110% with on target TR%/CIR% along with SLS PPO RR 103% (MoM -13%), despite lower ASF from reduced weight vs. Dec
- JP TR% on track with RR 106% mainly from ads TR%

Note

1. New seller definition is sellers' which go-live after '25 Oct onwards
2. OKR items without EOM projections, RR is based on MTD actual vs. Target

Key Highlights

1 KRJP Topline OKR: In Jan, KRJP Topline related indicators show good RR 108.7%/RR 106.4% ADG/ADO respectively(MoM +4% vs. CB MoM -1%)

KRJP Key growth driver OKR:

2 JP new seller miss target mainly from go-live CVR drop of accumulated leads' manual KYC delay during long holiday('25 late Dec to early Jan) yet new seller ADO on track

3 KR new seller overachieved mainly from one seller's single day >8k order from low price deal and organic viral yet even w/o this outlier still MTD RR 109%

4 LFF ADO RR 100% mainly due to 1)TH LFF order growth driven by higher CVR% following SLS D&T price markup, 2)VN Beplain's OOS replenishment in mid Jan yet KFBS RR 64% from on-going seller rate nego with vendor

5 Logistics OKR:

- BWT over target from JP's long holiday driven seller APT/WH lead time increase while other metrics of XDD% and CPO stable despite slight decrease in PPO from actual weight decrease

[Assortment/F&B] To improve F&B performance, KRCB proposes to resolve key blockers to achieve $14K ADG in March

Key Highlights

1. KRCB has sourced 3.5K SKUs and 201 shops in F&B category since channel opening in 4th of Jan
2. Due to lower than expected performance, KRCB plans to implement the below solutions to the key blockers, to create ADG of 3.8K and 14K in Feb/Mar (to be continued in following months)

Blockers	Priority	Proposed Solution	Impact (Feb)	Impact (Mar)
Total	-	-	• ADG $3.8K	• ADG $14K
Limited pool of (managed) F&B sellers	P1	• (Partially done) Increase managed pool of F&B sellers • Acquire new pool of F&B sellers (long-term; from Mar~)	• ADG $0.9K	• ADG $5.7K
F&B category deprioritized to sellers	P3	• Create pitching material and communicate to sellers, emphasizing demand for KR F&B goods in TW and top SKU list & trends info sharing	• ADG $1.6K	• ADG $2.3K
Complicated process of applying for shop & SKU whitelisting	P3	• Eliminate and/or simplify current SKU WL process by not requiring SKU-level WL application and only sharing prohibited keywords in TW ○ (Currently requesting all SKUs should apply for WL via G-form, but since WL review is done automatically to see if the SKU contains any prohibited keywords/ingredients, KR proposes to share the prohibited list to sellers)	• ADG $1.4K	• ADG $2K
Needs for support in driving F&B SKUs performance	P2	• After SKU listing is ramped up via the above solutions, create microsite & dedicated campaigns to expose top F&B SKUs	• ADG $0K	• ADG $4K

[Appendix] Recovery plan impact calculation logic

Blockers	Calculation logic

Limited pool of (managed) F&B sellers	• Increase managed pool of sellers (8 F&B resellers newly added into SMT3 seller pool)
	  ○ (# of live F&B MT SKUs - # of live F&B TW SKUs of target sellers) * Monthly split % * New SKU efficiency
	• Acquire new pool of F&B sellers
	  ○ (# of baseline F&B seller increase * 120% uplift) * # SKUs per new sellers * New SKU efficiency

F&B category deprioritized to sellers	• Strengthen pitching to sellers: Target sellers * pitching success % * # SKUs per new sellers * New SKU efficiency
	  ○ F&B sellers (but non-WL): Assume total 50% pitching success % and 20 SKUs per new sellers based on top-down targets & historical record of new sellers
	  ○ Non-F&B resellers (live in TW, non-WL): Assume total 5% pitching success % and 10 SKUs per new sellers given that the target sellers are not F&B specialized

Complicated process of applying for shop & SKU whitelisting	• Eliminate SKU WL process
	  ○ (# recommended SKU # per seller - current TW listed SKU per seller) * # of WL shop * Sourcing success % * New SKU efficiency
	  ■ Assume 50% sourcing success % given top-down targets

Needs for support in driving F&B SKUs performance	• Create dedicated campaigns
	  ○ M-1 TW F&B ADG * Uplift % from campaign
	  ■ Assume 10% uplift % from campaign based on historical uplift from vouchers/campaigns in TW for KRCB

[Price] KRCB NPC improved to -35% (+15%p MoM) via budget adjustments and pricing alignment, with plans to enhance seller negotiation through target pricing and dashboard-driven KPIs

Key Highlights

- KRCB NPC currently is at -35%, +15%p MoM increased from Dec -55% due to budget adjustment & newly matched/acquired SKUs matching CP prices
- To improve NPC further, KRCB plans to conduct/continue the following:
  - Provide target prices to newly acquired sellers/SKUs to better match CP prices
  - Enhance setup weekly price dashboard for seller negotiation and designate strict KPI targets

Context

- KR aims to pilot launch FBS in TW by Q1'26 to 1) enable faster delivery for buyers and 2) drive assortment that is difficult to onboard via SLS, mainly F&B and Home and Living
- 14 brands expressed interest in using TW FBS JIT model (≈ 621 Nov'25 ADO), representing 18% to KRTW brand sellers' ADO

Key Highlights

- TW FBS model is cost competitive vs. SLS at 188 ADO, and delivers 1 ~12% cost savings (Home & Living), 9% cost savings for Beauty and 1% cost savings for F&B vs. average ~45% in other FBS markets
- Unlike traditional FBS, TW FBS JIT model does not store sellers' inventory, thus requires additional steps from the sellers' side including 1) sourcing local 3PF WH and 2) daily local inbound to TW FBS JIT WH

Next Steps

- Source more 3PF warehouse vendors and negotiate for lower 2 handling fees and local trucking fees.
- Sense check vendor price competitiveness with local FBS sellers' vendors
- Coordinate commercial incentives for CB sellers to enhance FBS competitiveness vs. SLS.

KR FBS Seller Needs DeepDive: Both Torriden and Somebymi shared pain points on 1) Shopee allowed inbound quantity is too few; 2) Hard to book inbound date slot

- It requires both Ops Alignment and System Enhancement to address seller's pain points with 1) Shopee allowed max inbound quantity is too few, leading to OOS and 2) Inbound slot available to KR seller is too few and hard to book

Topic	Pain Points	Solutions/Proposal
Inbound quantity allowed by platform	- Max allowed inbound quantity for new SKU and old SKU is too little - Unable to see the exact inbound quota left for each day	Ops Alignment: 1. LHF: Leverage existing whitelist function to bypass regional CB's inbound quantity limit for new and old SKU 2. Align with Reg CB on if can set different DOC threshold for brand sellers 3. Align with Reg CB and Reg Ops on if can enforce liquidation/RTS while relaxing on inbound quantity limit System Enhancement: 1. BPM P0: Add flexibility to max inbound quantity threshold, cater for different seller origin, SKU type, seller's own ADO target 2. Display real time remaining quota to seller
Inbound slot booking	- Only 7 days of booking window is given and limited slots available each day - PDT (preferred delivery date) sometimes take more than 1 day for WHS ops to approve/reject; Only 10% of PDT request is approved	Ops Alignment: 1. LFH: Through Reg Ops, enforce the proper handling of seller's PDT request System Enhancement: 1. BPM P0: Split out inbound quota based on seller origin/type 2. Onboarding existing 'Consolidation Shipment' from offline to online and provide inbound slot booking services to selected sellers
