Key Highlights:

Topline:

1. Overall CB ADO/ADGMV runrate at 102%/100%; higher ADO from (1) VN driven by better performance during Spikes on 2.1 and 2.2; and (2) PH following platform better performance driven by higher FSV push

EBITDA: +$3.4mil vs Target,

2. MP PC2: +$1.9mil mainly from higher seller ads investment driven by 5% Compulsory Ads roll out to CNCB MP sellers in Feb, and TH less voucher rebate for MBS $3-$4 range
3. SLS P&L: +$0.9mil from SG due to lower BSC%; and VN/BR from lower linehaul cost quotation
4. Standalone P&L: +$0.5mil from SIP PnL driven by higher orders; and WH PnL due to TH cost improvement from delay of Damaged Expired Missing stocktake at SC1 from Feb to Mar'26

[Mar'26 Projections]: CB ADO proj. at 2.8mil, with EBITDA at +$21.4mil

Supporting - CNY performance: this year CNY impact is less than last year (last year dip by ~30%, this year only dip by 20%), and overall recovery ~97%, 3P SLS BU across mkts at 85-90%

Key Highlights:

Two key difference for CNY impact vs last year

1. CNY impact starts later than Y25, reflected by that W-2 less impact (ADO% -8% x last year, but this year -4%)

2. Less ADO impact than Y25, last year ~30% ADO dip during CNY, normalized by platform dip by ~7%, but this year only dip 20%, ADO% even increase)

And up till D+11, we've seen CB ADO% still have a gap of 3%, mkts like SG/MY/PH gap at 6-9%, 3P SLS BU has 10% gap

Supporting - Swarm: with price mark-up from Feb 14th, mature and OF P&L is becoming breakeven, and expect seller P&L UE to further improve in Mar

Key highlights:

In General, 3P SLS has a bigger impact vs FBS/3PF, this is mainly due to a higher% in low takerate proportion, as can see that by each seller takerate group, the% is not so different

[Compulsory Ads - TR impact]: despite we do see the ads takerate uplift, the spikes in spending trends needs attention as sudden spike in expenditure will hurt ads conversions

Key Highlights:

1 Ads Top Up followed escrow payout sequence (weekly)

2 Causing a spike in topup => which is usual and no issue

3 However, ads takerate also have a spike right after top up and decrease sharply after 3 days of top up, => indicating unevenly traffic boosting, may hurt conversion

Solution:
Sync with CN ads and BPM to follow up, see if adding a daily max spending

[Compulsory Ads - Order/Price] Preliminary findings that seller increase price more than expected, to validate with CN findings

Table: price and order impact from commission and compulsory impact

Key Highlights:

Observations on

1. sellers increase the price mostly on par or higher than commission+compulsory ads increase %, which effectively we didn't increase so much in seller CODB
2. Seller increase price for FBS/SLS together, suspect due to no differentiation in pricing when PFF(e.g. In MY)

Note: TH SLS and VN 3PF has unusual spike due to Tax and PRM adjustments (reduced by 3% cir)

Follow up action:

- Cross validate with CN side
- Let sellers know that their CODB actually did not increase as much, hence there is room to lower the current price

Agenda

- CB Performance update
  - Feb’26 Review
  - Mar’26 Projections
  - CNY recovery/impact to topline
- Key Initiatives Updates :
  - Impact from Technical Support Fee
  - TH Tax impact after Feb 9th

[Recap] TH import duty imposed through listing price markup in Jan 19, further revised down in Feb to match TTS rate for CN sellers

	Tax profit/loss (USD)*	-	-0.2m	-

Note: Tax surplus not recorded in SLS P&L as per Seafin directions, but any tax loss will be recorded (i.e. Jan'26)*

Key Highlights:

Phase 1: CN did not charge import tax, cost borne by SLS. KRJP/SIP implemented

- (1) Initial uncertainty of actual govt. implementation for grey channels
- (2) Competitors delayed tax charges too
- Tax loss of $0.86/order (~180K USD loss per day)

Phase 2: CN to charge buyers at true cost, KRJP/SIP reduced tax charges due to system limitation

- CN customs agreed to charge at 70% value, SHP imposed cost to buyers via listing price markup
- Due to system limitations, can only set in system 1 discount rate across CN/KRJP/SIP. KRJP/SIP reduced from 100% to 70% due to high opportunity cost from CN side if not implemented immediately

Phase 3: CN further reduced tax cost to match TTS, KRJP/SIP reverted back to 100%

- CN reduced tax markup for 15 L1 categories to be lower than TTS by 3%

[TH Tax Reduction for specific Categories from Feb 9th]: ADO uplift post normalization as per expectations (+11%); overall tax profit is still positive (0.21 usd/order), but forgone tax revenue of 1.8m per month

Key highlights:

#1: Does ADO for selected category come back as expected?

1 For the selected category +11% after normalization (-11% vs. non-adjusted category of -21%)

- Incremental is similar as our expectation of 12% uplift

#2: Does tax rate and SLS P&L reduce as expected?

- Effective tax rate reduction close to expectations, and tax surplus* is still positive at 0.21 usd/order

2 But forgone revenue of -0.31 vs. Phase 2, -1.8m per month

Note: Tax surplus not recorded in SLS P&L as per Seafin directions*

#3: After reduction, how's our NPC/SOB vs competitor?

- We haven't got the Feb SOB/NPC yet, the early time that we can get Feb'26 SOB by EOW

[Update to Chris] Reg FP&A updated Chris on Q1'26 performance, and Chris wasn't aware of TH 3m tax loss in Jan. Expect to reduce tax loss to -0.9m in Q1'26 post price markup, and fully recover in Q2'26

Regarding TH Jan'26 a 3mil tax loss, pls find details below:

Context:

- Policy change: TH Customs implemented import duties of 10–30% by different categories, effective 1 Jan 2026 across all price range (Previously exempted for <1500 THB items)
- THCB 3PL customs-clearance (CC) fees increased by 0.90 usd/pc in Jan actuals charging

Treatment:

- However, we didn't increase the price from Jan 1st but from Jan 19th after confirmation with Dhika, Jianghong and TH GR, with following reasons:
  - Major competitors delayed tax charge (e.g. LZD effective 14 Jan; TT effective 21 Jan)
  - Uncertainty in how this policy would land operationally (how much tax exactly 3PL would be charged in customs), as 3PL vendors previously were able to declare less import value given as land transport custom clearances was less stringent vs. airway (CN-TH mostly landway)
  - TH FP&A has updated above message on Jan 28 TH mgmt meeting and Jan 21/Feb 3 budget meeting as well
- This caused SHP -3.5mil tax undercollection from Jan 1 - 19, and recovered 0.5mil post-price increase implementation in Jan. For Feb/Mar, we estimate to have a tax surplus of 2.2mil in total, reducing total tax loss for Q1 '26 to -0.9mil, Q2'26 will recover the full amount.
